Memorandum -

An old volume in the original Persian binding, containing 46 exquisitely fine Persian Drawings, illuminated in gold.

The French titles written on each are evidently of the 17th Century.

There are curious aureoles round the heads of the personages of highest rank, similar to those round the heads of saints.

The gilding is wonderfully fine.

The drawing of a falcon on the hand of one of the personages is very remarkable.

This volume once belonged to Earl Granville.

N.B. The covers will warp in the dry American air unless the volume is kept between other books.
